28TH STREET FEATURE

THE FRIENDLY DOLPHIN

I have always liked dolphins. Those intelligent, happy-go-lucky mammals that dwell in the sea somewhat remind me of fraternity guys. (Yes, I did say intelligent. Remember, I too am a fraternity guy and this too is a vanity column) For instance, dolphins have those built-in grins that remind me of sincere Rush smiles during early semester parties. Dolphins also usually travel in groups of thirty or more, and always bring along the little sister dolphin babes with them on a sea current/road trips. Another great thing about dolphins is that when a big mean GDI shark comes wandering into their territory, the dolphins all gang up on him and beat the living cartilage out of the guy. And if during the fight a dolphin gets hurt, the other dudes push him away to safety to the center of their group. Guess what happens when a GDI shark gets hurt? That's right. Other GDI sharks come up and eat him. (Ah, thanks a lot, guys..."chomp" "chomp") All this being said, don't be too surprised if you see some dolphins at Sea World wearing his EEK letters. Of course being a legacy of Flipper helps.

Hate,

Weldon Wall

28th Street Magazine presents...

HOW NOT TO YACHT

The EEK chapter of Iowa State bring you "How Not To Yacht"

YACHTING has always been the pastime of the elite. Skill, courage, and mastery of the ocean have always been prerequisites to a successful cruise. Having always lacked these qualities, 28th Street shows you what not to do.

HOW NOT TO YACHT

lesson 1

NEVER HAVE MORE THAN ONE CAPTAIN ON YACHTING CRUISES...

Contradicting command decisions often result in slight disagreements.

lesson 2

THE PHRASE "TRIMMING THE SAILS" SHOULD NEVER BE TAKEN LITERALLY.

Yachting does not require expert knowledge of woodworking.

Lesson 3

Gin and Salt Water "shaken not stirred" is not acceptable as a yachting drink
